Flex Manager Service

Synergy's Flex Manager service gives you "just in time" leadership talent. You can maintain a lean, highly focused, core leadership team. When you have temporary needs or one off projects, call an experienced Flex Manager to supplement your team.

A Flex Manager goes beyond consulting. While a consultant facilitates, recommends, and advises, a Flex Manager also implements and works hands on.

A Flex Manager can help with situations like these.

- Lead specific projects or start new initiatives
- Offload a team so they can focus on key issues
- Cover gaps due to an extended leave or the sudden loss of a manager
- Bring new expertise into the organization and transfer it to the long-term team
- Handle workload peaks, such as a temporary surge in business or integration of the operations of an acquisition

Cost effective and flexible

- Pay only for the expertise and time you need, without adding long-term payroll expenses
- Flexible contract lengths

Focused expertise

- Get a experienced leader with an outside view and no political history
- Practical expertise in both program and functional management, including PMP certification
- Specialties include program and project management, technology development, and operations

Rapid results

- Quickly productive
- Hands-on, accountable leader who manages to time frames and budgets
